

Biography of Kye Marshall

Kye Marshall is a composer and cellist whose compositions have been performed in numerous venues including the Glenn Gould Studios, Harbourfront, Royal Conservatory of Music, North York Performing Arts Centre, the Music Gallery, on TVO and CBC Radio and in the United States and Austria. She has written a Concerto for Bass Trombone and for different combinations of instruments including string orchestra, string quartet, brass quintet, piano and choir. Marshall has also composed four film scores, for CBC radio drama and for theatre and dance. Two of her pieces for piano have been published by the Canadian National Conservatory of Music for their Northern Lights Series. As a cellist, she performs classical, jazz and free music with five CD's to her credit.

For more info: www.kyemarshall.com